

Josephine... A Tale of Hope and Happy Endings

RETAIL ORDER FORM

JOSEPHINE...A Tale of Hope and Happy Endings is based on a true story about Josephine, a great-granddaughter of the famous racehorse, Seabiscuit. Losing her mother just four days after birth, her survival hinges on her caretakers finding a surrogate mother to nurture her. Told from the young filly's perspective, this poignant story is sure to touch your heart.

"This beautiful little story explores the resilience of the heart and the love that lies all around us, and demonstrates that even in grief, happy new beginnings await us. I will not soon forget this book." —Laura Hillenbrand, bestselling author of Seabiscuit: An American Legend.

T.R.A.I.L., a nonprofit 501(c)(3), is a member therapeutic riding program established in 1993 at historic Ridgewood Ranch in Willits, California, home of the legendary racehorse Seabiscuit. The program provides services to improve the lives of children and adults who are challenged physically, developmentally, emotionally, and socially.

The Frank R. Howard Foundation · www.howardfoundation.org

Charles S. Howard, owner of the famed racehorse Seabiscuit, donated funds for a hospital to be built in the rural community of Willits, California, in response to the tragic loss of his son, Frank R. Howard. Young Frank suffered a severe accident in a remote area outside Willits, with no hospital near enough to save his life. Since 1928, Frank R. Howard Memorial Hospital has served the community of Willits and northern Mendocino County with distinction.

The Frank R. Howard Foundation is currently raising funds for a new Howard Hospital campus and wellness center in Willits, California.
